

January Monthly Newsletter

Message from the Principal

Dear Parents,

Happy 2019! On behalf of our staff, I would like to welcome back all of our returning families & extend a very warm welcome to our new children and their parents too. It has been wonderful to see how much most of our returning children have grown over the Winter break, and also a great pleasure to meet and get to know some of our new students and their families during the month of January. We look forward to working very closely with each of you throughout term 2 in order to best support your child at this very important stage of their lives.

Although our first month of the term is now over, some of our children (mostly the ones who joined us later on during the term), are still going through the settling in stage. This is absolutely normal and no reason for concern! Most children tend to take 2 to 3 weeks to settle and, even after this time, some might still get occasionally upset - especially after being away from the nursery for some time or right after the weekend. To best support your child at this stage DO ensure that you stick to the timings which have been given to you by your child's class teacher during the settling in period. Extending your child's timings abruptly will often have a negative impact on how they settle into this new environment. If you ever feel the need to talk about any issues related to your little one's settling in at the nursery or any other aspect of their education or development, please feel free to come in and see me. At TIN we have an Open Door Policy. Hence, as long as I am not in another meeting, I will be happy to see you at any time. ☺

Lastly, please do not forget to make note of your child's upcoming Sports Day. The children have been practicing really hard for this event and we look forward to seeing all of you here! ☺

Kindest regards,
Carol Oliveira - Principal at TIN DSO

Arrivals & Dismissals

Please ensure that your child is at the Nursery by 8:30 am. Punctuality is vital as being late and missing out on part of their daily routine can be very upsetting for a child. Dismissal time for those who are not part of our Extended Day Programme is from 12:10pm-12:30pm. Those taking part in our extended day programme have an option of being collected at 2pm, 5pm or 6pm. Late collections can also be truly upsetting for a child, especially during the settling in period.

PLEASE NOTE: As many children were being picked up late on a daily basis, we have now once again put in place a late pick up fee which will have to be paid by all parents who are late to pick up their child. Having more than the number of children booked for a particular time slot can impact the safety of your little ones as the number of staff members assigned to the different time slots is based on the number of children enrolled until that particular time. If you have any concerns regarding the late pick up fee or would like to extend your child's timings, please see our Admin Dept. Your support with this matter is greatly appreciated. ☺

School Readiness

The Importance of Personal, Social & Emotional Development for Preschool Children

It's that time of the year in which parents start getting very concerned about the dreaded school assessments and often worry if their child will be able to pass it or not. With this in mind, I've decided to dedicate a part of this newsletter to an area of development that often tends to be forgotten by mummies and daddies but which plays a very important role in getting your child accepted in a 'big' school. So let's talk about Personal, Social & Emotional Development...

Parents often tend to think that school assessments are all about ABC's and 123's but there's more to them than that. I can't emphasize enough how important a child's Personal, Social and Emotional Development is when it comes to them being accepted in a new school. But what does this mean exactly? Here are a few very important points related to this area of development which you should keep in mind before your child attends his/her school assessment(s):

- ❖ Emotional confidence & the ability to let go of mum/dad: By the time your child joins school he/she should be able to separate from you without a great struggle. Therefore, in many school assessments examiners will often observe if your child is able to do this too. Although 'separation anxiety' is a normal part of child development, by the time children are 2+ this should have ideally disappeared. How can you help? Give your little one PLENTY of practice by encouraging him/her to walk to class at the nursery on a daily basis. Avoid carrying them to class and, whenever possible, try and drop them by the gate. Giving your child the opportunity to play, interact and even spend some time with other people rather than only mum or dad can also help a lot.
- ❖ Become more Independent: When your child joins school, he/she will be expected to do a lot of things on their own, which includes: taking care of their belongings & tidying up, asking for what they need/want, using the washroom and eating independently. Although the examiner will not be able to observe all of these skills during the assessment, they might often look for 'clues' as to how self-reliant your child is. How can you help? Once again, practice makes perfect! Therefore, DO ensure that you give your child many opportunities to be independent at home and constantly give them a chance to practice the skills mentioned above. Moreover, if your child is nearly 3 or 3+ you can also try to encourage them to be more independent when you go out. For example: Have them help you with the grocery shopping and perhaps even buy an item by themselves too. Needless to say, always observe that they are safe and fine!
- ❖ Basic Social Skills: Some schools tend to hold assessments in small groups. If this is the case, they will often observe how your child interacts with others and if he/she is willing to follow instructions, share and take turns. Even if the assessment is held on a one-to-one basis with the examiner, having some basic social skills can also go a long way in creating a good first impression. This includes: responding to greetings (i.e. "Good morning?" "How are you?") and being able to answer some basic questions (i.e. "What's your name?"). How can you help? Encourage your child to greet others and do ensure that they see you doing this too. Arrange play dates and give them daily opportunities to socialize and interact with other people rather than only with their immediate family.
- ❖ Bedtime Routine: Children who didn't get a good night sleep often feel grumpy and emotional the next day. Hence, going for an early morning assessment after sleeping late is definitely not a good idea! How can you help? Establish a fairly consistent bedtime routine at home for your child and ensure that he/she goes to bed early on the day before the assessment. Children between 3-5 years of age should sleep from 10-13 hours per night.

I hope this helps! ☺

Nursery Programme

January 2019

Dear Parents,

What a fast paced but great start to the second term. This month we added many new friends to our class and I would just like to take this chance to properly welcome Ghinwa, Katherine, Yousif, Maryam, Stuti, Laila and all our lovely new parents to the Dolphin Class.

It's been a pleasure getting to know all of you and your children.

This month, along with settling back in to our routines, we learnt all about the different sports and physical activities we can do in our "Sports & Movement" theme. We focused on soccer, basketball and yoga, but also took a quick look at the Olympics, baseball, bowling, tennis and rugby.

The children really enjoyed playing some of these fun physical games and we learnt a lot about how our bodies can move as we play. We also focused on our balance and meditation skills during our yoga sessions.

This month we also started practicing for our "Sports Day", which will be in February. Our children have been excitedly learning how to go through an obstacle course, race each other and use all their physical development skills they have learnt this month. We can't wait for this special event and we hope that all of you will be able to join us and cheer your children on.

The rest of the term is going to be a whirlwind as we plan all our special events and activities. It's going to be super busy, but super fun and we can't wait to spend it with all of you.

Thank you for all the support and encouragement so far this term. Here's to another fantastic term ahead!

Ms Taryn
